We do not live by bread alone,

Face to Face

Meeting face to face is the best way to get to know someone. A Face to Face visit was a wonderful way for Colborne Street United Church in London, Ontario, to meet with the Rev. Rocio Barcenas, visitor from the Methodist Church in Colombia, a United Church partner. It showed the congregants some of the work that the Colombian church is involved with through donations to the Mission and Service Fund. The Methodist Church has 16 congregations and operates cafeterias for children of families displaced by civil war in Cartagena and Bogotá.

It was not only good to meet the Rev. Barcenas and learn about her church's work, but by travelling with her in London Conference, the group from Colburne Street also learned about local Mission and Service Fund efforts. They met residents of the Limberlost subsidized housing development in London, many of whom are single-parent families and refugees. They were introduced to the Aamjiwnaang First Nation United Church near Sarnia, Ontario, which receives M&S support to provide a strong focus for the community. They were greeted by those who receive a good meal from the "Out of the Cold" dinners offered by Colborne Street Church and other churches in London.

These visits helped the committee realize what they are a part of in The United Church of Canada. Your gifts to the Mission and Service Fund help us serve others face to face.
